

Southeastern Hummingbirds: A Lot More Than You Might Think

Guest Speaker, Fred Bassett,
Certified Master Bird Bander & President of Hummingbird Research, Inc.

Niceville Community Center

Tuesday, September 23 @ 6:00 pm

Program is free and public invited to attend

Presented by the Niceville Garden Club in partnership with Friends of the Niceville Library

This program will provide in depth information on Ruby-throated hummingbirds as well as introducing several western hummingbird species that winter in the Southeast and show how they are banded.

Fred Bassett is a retired Air Force pilot who has worked with birds for over twenty years. He bands all types of birds each April and October at the Fort Morgan banding station on the gulf coast and travels each summer to study hummingbirds in western states. He has banded over 25,000 hummingbirds at more than 1,000 locations from Miami to Haines, Alaska. During the winter he documents western hummingbirds wintering in south Alabama and Florida. Results of his research have been published in several national publications.
